

SHIP™

Sustainability High school students Internship Program

SHIP™ (Sustainability High school students Internship Program) has been curated especially for students by Dr Smriti Pahwa, Founder of The "MOC" (Missed Opportunities Cognizant) Mindset™; Author & Senior Consultant -Social Impact. Read more: Dr Smriti Pahwa Profile summary

Dr Smriti Pahwa, a seasoned development sector professional, has created SHIP™ routes to serve as an interface where students can engage with Sustainable Development concepts; Challenges and the Opportunities within. SHIP™ nudges students to examine this landscape beyond the lens of social service/charity/voluntary engagement. It allows them to explore, early on, Social Impact professional career opportunities across all academic disciplines (Science; Commerce; Humanities).

Through SHIP™ Dr Pahwa envisions inducting young aspiring minds in Social Impact, broadening the horizon on application potential of their skills. SHIP™ enables students to explore New Innovative Professional - Entrepreneurial career path avenues as well as volunteering assignments making informed decisions "By Choice" and "Not by Chance"

The MOC Mindset™
Missed Opportunities Cognizant

The “MOC” (Missed Opportunities Cognizant) Mindset™ calls for an Entrepreneurial Innovative approach through Design Thinking, Collaborations & Partnerships for Integrated Action to maximise Social Impact.

Dr Smriti Pahwa, in her book “Of Missed Opportunities...One Too many!”, explains what is The “MOC” Mindset™ in theory and action!
The book has case studies from actual Social Impact projects Smriti has lead in the last two decades.
